

In order for a democratic nation to thrive, the plurality of voices must be heard. This rule change serves corporate interests, not towards the end of a well-informed, educated citizenry.